Stories & Songs @ the Compost Café

Join us for a spectacular and “soil-ful” evening of stories, songs, snippets and serenades.

It’s all in honor of International Compost Awareness Week (ICAW) and the wonder of compost and caring for our beautiful planet. Our “scrapy” group of entertainers and artists are digging up scoopfuls of fun to delight you with a special selection of sparkling tales, sprightly tunes, spoken word, and more. Come along, read-along, sing-along and enjoy an evening to celebrate healthy soil, healthy food, waste diversion, and earth-care through the arts. The program is geared for grade school age children and their families, but we think all ages will learn something new, be inspired, and enjoy this special program.

Families and adults of all ages can register to attend

a) virtually, or b) join us live at the Vernon Hills Park District Sullivan Center, 635 N. Aspen Drive, in Vernon Hills, IL.

Performers/presenters: William Marr, Connie Purcell, Kimberly Waller, Shawn Killackey & Artist’s Alliance, Jeff Williams from Hood to Table, Monica Chen, Seema Keshav & Merleanne Rampale.

Co-sponsored & hosted by our partners, Vernon Hills Park District.
